(Laughter.) At this point, let me direct your attention to the life-At this point, let me direct your attention to the life-like, allegorical group at the end of the hall (pointing to an immense stuffed tiger with its paw on a prostrate horse). That is the Princeton tiger in the act of illus-trating the motto of the House of Nassau, "Orange Boven," which my brother DeWitt said at the Holland tinner, meant "Princeton on top." The prostrate form is of course Yale. Harvard is inside of the horse-Laughter.) Columbia is nowhere. (Laughter.) Or, rather, Columbia is elsewhere, taking advantage of the excitement of the other universities over football, to alip into the presidency of her college a business-like scholar and an academic man of affairs, and to take a fresh start on a career of prominent usefulness. (Ap-

But now let us come at once to the principal question in hand: The Army and Navy. Taking the Navy first, I will remark that we haven't any. (Laughter.) But the Army. Talk no more to us of Thermopylae or Marathon. of Hastings or of Flodden Field. of Waterloo or Yorktown. of Manassas or of Gettysburg. Let us have a rest from Hannibal and Caesar, and Alexander and Napoleon and Wellington and Grant and Sherman. Tonight we celebrate the Battle of Berkeley Oval, and the statement of a sentian only according years of age. prowess of a captain only seventeen years of age, (Applause.) He it is who was designated by my friend beyow, in his Harvard dinner speech, as one of the middle-aged men " we sent up to beat Yale; a captain the still belongs to the minor class and ranks in his studies near the top of it; one who, though successi studies near the top of it; one who, though successful both as a scholar and on the athletic field, is not at all afflicted with that discase chassically known as magnum caput (laughter); and that captain's name is Edgar Allen Poe. (Cheers.)

Thank you, Captain Poe, thank you and all you brave follows who fought, with him.

Thank you. Capiain Poe, thank you and all you brave fellows who fought with him—every one of you a bona fide son of Nassau—not a man of you inelligible to present us either legally, equitably or morally. (Applause.) I thank you in the name of the Princton Club, in the name of all the alumni; in the name of Harvard, Yale and Columbia. (Applause and laughter.)

One reason you won was because you deserved to win. You wen by the honest, earnest application of right athletic principles. Another reason was that the ghost of Poe's great uncle's raven was sitting on the bust of Patton. And that raven still is sitting, still is sitting (Laughter.) And that raven still is sitting, star is an amount of the way, we've and must leave us nevermere. And by the way, we've got our eye on baseball too. Another reason was that you had ambitious Ames. (Laughter.) I wish Ames were here to be thanked. Domestic affliction detains him away. He has shown what a Princeton man can do who is willing. to conquer self for his cause. He has been unfairly as persed from without, but he has won the lasting encomiums persed from without, but he has won the lasting encommons of all Princeton and all non-partisan men. (Applause.)

And now, let the broad barreer of Nassau be unfurled.
Fling to the breeze the orange and black, bearing that blazing motto "Oranjo Reven"; Princeton on top! Let Let the historic cannon boom! Let the tiger rear! Harvard, the mether of colleges, whom we honor, rejoice in the progress of her younger sister. Let old Yale, who gave us our three first presidents, join in cheering the truits of her seed sown. Let Columbia add her applause—Colum-bia who gave us our Sloane, and then tried to get him back again; but he wouldn't go, because he would rather be a Let Columbia add her applause-Coldoorkeeper in the house of the—that is to say, he preferred to stay at Princeton. (Laughter.) Let Poe and Ames and Cowan and Channing and Black and all the rest of the noble fellows continue to kick. Let students and alumni and faculty and trustees and public join in the loud acciaim, as Princeton pushes on from victory to victory on athletic field and in academic hall—and let us ever keep in mind those words spoken to the students after the Betkeley victory by that grand old hero of many battles. Dr. McCosh: "We have nothing to look back upon with shame. Ever go forward honorably. Present laurels will, fade as years pass away. Then be at work to win fresh laurels." (Cheers and ap-This address was received with boisterous dem-

This address was received with boisterons demonstrations of appreciation. Mr. Alexander followed it up in the line of continued enthusiasm by saying that on the part of a number of the alumni he had to present silver matchboxes, gold-lined, to Edgar Allen Poe, for the members of the football team. CAPTAIN POE'S EARNEST THANKS.

"Ovation" is too weak a word to express the reception given to Mr. Poe when he arose to return thanks for the gift. He is a little, broad, powerful-looking young man, with dark eyes and dark hair. His manner of speech is bluff and straightforward, in every respect what one would expect in the captain of a champion football expect in the captain of a champion football team. He expressed the gratitude of himself and his men for the gifts which had been pre-sented to them, as well as for the invi-tation extended by the alumni to them for "this glorious dinner." He thought that the fation extended by the manning of the for "this glorious dinner." He thought that the "golden age" of athletics had come for Princeton. (Cheers.) It had not come for Harvard, because Harvard could not come to try; and Yale could not "get there" even if she wanted to come to try. (Loud cheers.) REMARKS FROM PRESIDENT PATTON.

Then President Francis L. Patton made an eloquent speech in response to the toast of "Princeton University, saying in part as follows:

I believe that Harvard is a great National university ers); great in her past, great (who can doubt it?) has been transferred from Boston to New-York (loud cheers), a fact, it seems to me, as indisputable as that we should have the World's Fair in this city in 1892. (Loud

We must develop our facilities. This is not the place to review the financial situation, and yet within the limits hospitality, and in the secret confidences of these or walls, I would like to say that we ed money. (Laughter and applause.) There are some need money. people who like to give money to help those who cannot afford to pay their own tuition, and I stand here to-night with the last block of scholarships I intend to offer between now and June. There are only twenty of them at $1,000 apiece. There ought to be twenty-five of them at $10,000 apiece. One million dollars is the modest sum that we would ask for it now. (Laughter and applause.)

I am willing to take that money to-night, but if I have to wait I will. (Laughter.) The money will come, if deserve it, and to deserve it let us remember one thing that, without abating our interest in athletics, without drawing the rein an instant in the race for pedagogic preeminence, the building up of a high type of Christian man-hood is that which shall make Princeton great. (Ap-

DR. SLOANE ON "ATHLETICS."

Dr. William M. Sloane, in a happy speech in pply to the toast of "Athletics," said in part:
The education of the mind is not the sole aim of university education, for beauty and health are the chief sources of physical happiness, and these cannot be had without physical training. But if contest and strife in athletics beget, in addition, the manly virtues, the rare virtues, which are as precious as any other attainment of the four years at college—the position of out-door sports and of their management by those who participate in them becomes impregnable. (Cheers.) Our first aim has been to see that all who represented

Our first aim has been to see that all who represented Princeton in public contests were "professionals"—but professional students. If a prefessional student rises to the perfection of a professional athlete, the gain is so much the greater, and Princeton College will never dis-courage the force and skill of body which is the servant of force and skill in intellect. (Cheers.)

The theme of the Rev. Dr. Wilton Merle Smith was "Princeton and Her Sons," and if there were any praises or compliments that he did not lavish on the boys, it was because time failed Francis O. French, of Harvard, then made brief speech for his college, which was warmly received.

MR. DEPEW ANSWERS FOR YALE.

Yale's representative, Chauncey M. Depew, was cheered to the echo when he rose to reply to the toast of the foe who Princeton admits, is worthy of her steel. Part of his address was as follows: Mr. President and Gentlemen: I came here to night with much trepidation. After your recent victory I feared that the president of the Yale Alumni Association of New-York might be held as a captive to grace your triumphal procession. But while a Roman victor carried his cap-tive through the streets tied to a charlot wheel and then flung him into a dungeon to starve, you have given me a Savarin dinner to sustain my strength and a royal welcome sustain my spirits. (Lighter.)

I feel a certain kinship to Princeten when I look upon her colors of the flouse of Nassau. They remind me of my St. Nicholas and Knickerbocker associations.

I do not know if there is anything in the ancestry of Princeton that entitles her to relationship to the Dutch.

But there are striking historical parallels between the gians. Two hundred and fifty years ago my Dutch ancestors in the synod of Dort fought valiantly for the doctrins of predestination, talking sixteen hours a day for months, and in the end predestination triumphed.

It is a sad evidence of the degeneracy of our times that two weeks' discussion of the same subject in the Presbyterian Synod of New-York has wearled every one.

(Laughter.) But it shows that there was a Dutch crigin (Laughter.) But it shows that there was a Dutch original for the predestination fight so ably led by the president (Laughter.) A year ago at the Harvard dinner, the then president of your alumni commented upon the athletic dinner which Yale had held a few nights before to celebrate in her own modest and unassuming way her triumphs with bat and ball and our for a series of years. Never have I listened to another such eloquent and terrific denunciation of the brutality of athletiés. The air was hard with "brutase" and "brutases," and when he declared that the other colleges of the country would devote themselves to legitimate academic pursuits and leave muscular development and its frightful results to Yale, Harvard cheered as I had never heard her before. (Loud and continued laughter and ap-

But Princeton wins a football match on the Berkeley Oval this Thanksgiving Day, and behold the change! (Cheers from Princeton boys.) Princeton, the most conproper development of American manhood and the true career of the American scholar. (Laughter.)

George G. DeWitt replied for "Columbia," and spoke, to use his own words, "as Columbia's representative, for she is no jealous rival, but rejoices with you in the celebration of your retaining.

The officers of the Princeton Club, to whose The officers of the Princeton Club, to whose efforts the success of the dinner is to be largely attributed, are James W. Alexander, president; Rudolph E. Schirmer, secretary; C. C. Cuyler, treesurer; executive committee, M. Taylor Pyne, Hugh L. Cole, Charles F. Imbrie, David Paton, William Allen Butler, jr., William Dulles, Charles Allen Munn, Dr. Samuel Lloyd, Junius S. Morgaa, jr., Job Elmer Hedges, Jonathan Sturges and Tracy H. Harris

SHERIFF'S JURORS DINE.

THE SECOND PANEL HAS A JOLLY TIME.

SPEECHES BY ADON SMITH, JUDGE BRADY, GEN-ERAL PORTER, EX-JUDGE DAVIS AND OTHERS.

The annual dinners of the Second Panel Sheriff's Jury have long been famous. Yet, despite the incomparable traditions of the past, none of the gatherings excelled in jollity, good-fellowship and "flow of soul" that held in Delmonico's last evening.

hall, which was appropriately decorated with flowers, fruits and flags. To each guest was presented a beautiful, original and artistle menu souvenir made for the occasion by Messrs, Baldwin, Gleason & Co. At the same table with Adon Smith and Judge John R. Brady, who divided the honor of presiding, sat Judge R. B. Martine, Recorder Frederick Smyth, Judge Cowing, Noah Brooks, Judge Edward Patterson. Judge A. R. Lawrence, Sheriff James A. Flack, ex-Judge Noah Davis, General Horace Porter, Judge R. O'Gorman, Judge H. W. Allen, Judge Joseph F. Daly and J. H. Crane, who took the place of Judge Among those who occupied seats at the other tables were M. H. Moses, Charles Reilly, J. C. Valentine, J. E. Whiteley, W. H. Harrison, Colonel J. A. Cockerill. J. Kaufman, H. H. Hickey, P. J. Trainor, David Me Clure, Justice Lelcester Holme, J. W. Cartis, J. Merz-bacher, James Buckley, George De Haven, Charles Skinner. Commissioner Thomas F. Gilroy, Francis R. Emmons, E. St. John Hays, Hubert Van Wagenen, J. Wesley Jones, E. L. Merrifield, C. L.

Brott, J. M. Campbell, D. F. McMahon,
Thomas E. Murray, James J. Martin,
S. Charles Welch, T. C. E. Ecclesine, John H. Bird, Dr. E. Bradley, J. H. V. Arnold, Martin B. Brown, Theodore W. Myers, the Rev. E. W. Warren, the Rev. Dr. Gottheil, George H. Robinson, John H. Knapp. Congressman Ashbei P. Fitch, George R. Catheart, Forrest H. Parker, Henry W. Schmidt, E. G. W. Woerz, H. H. Brockway, William Otimann, Thomas S. Brennan, J. S. Dickerson, E. M. Townsend, jr., David McAdam, S. M. Ehrlich, R. A. Van Wyck. F. W. Devoe, R. M. Galloway, Henry A. Rogers, John Abendroth, A. O. Salter, S. P. Avery, W. S. Updyke, William King, A. B. Glbbs, H. T. Cutter, Edmund C. Stanton, Jules A. Montant, William H. Gedney, Edward C. Rice, J. F. Delury, J. J. Harrington, Thomas Chatterton, F. P. Furnald, jr., Charles H. Webb, Joel O. Stevens, James J. Phelan, Samuel J. Held, Frank Rothschild, David J. Tim, A. J. Cammeyer, Michael Coleman, S. Leward Nash, A. W. Bailey, Edward D. Thurston, Francis B. Arnold, C. F. Wise, Edwin O. Meyer, S. G. Acton, Jr., John Stanton, John H. Selmes, Frank H. Page, Joseph I. Baldwin, Charles A. Moore, Gustavus Tuck-ermann, John M. Goetchius, Ellot Norton, F. T. Underhill and George A. Meyer.

The hour was late when the guests were called upon for speeches. In introducing Sheriff Flack, Adon

Inderhill and George A. Meyer.

The hour was late when the guests were called upon for speeches. In introducing Sheriff Flack, Adon Smith attributed the absence of many of the jurors to the much abused influenza, which "had a firm grip upon all." The Sheriff was followed by Judge Brady, who said that the jury dated from the eleventh century, and, judging from the numerous buld heads, the original members of that distant time were still present to serve their country. After an interesting speech, and referring to ex-Judge Davis as an authority on "chest-nuis," he gave place to that gentleman, who admitted the truth of the accusation. "But, gentlemen," he sadded, "I am an authority on chestnuts because I have sat on the bench for fourteen years with Judge Brady." Noah Brooks, ex-Senator Ecclesine, General Horace Porler and others followed him with cloquent and witty speeches, which drew forth prolonged applause and held the guests till an early hour this morning. The only regret expressed by the numerous guests—and it was universal—was that another year would pass by before the next dinner of the Second Panel Sheriff's Jury.

IN HONOR OF SETH LOW.

COLUMBIA'S PRESIDENT-ELECT.

D. Benedict, Edwin A. Packard, Colonel J. N. Partridge, John Gibb, E. M. Shepard, Ethan Allen Doty, H. K. Sheldon, Dr. C. N. Hoagland, Tunis G. Bergen, M. C. Ogden, E. B. Bartlett, A. L. Dow, Theodore B. Willis, F. P. Bellamy, S. B. Chittenden, W. Cary Sanger, A. G. McDonald, W. J. Gaynor, S. B. Duryea, Charles A. Moore, Joshua M. Van Cott, W. V. Tupper, W. H. Ziegler, William H. Williams and Dr. G. W. Plympton.

The speaking was begun if President George M. Olcott, who said among other things that Columbia College could be congratulated upon her choice for president, and New-York upon the gain of a citizen who had done his part in every good work in Brook lyn. The removal of Mr. Low to New-York should be an additional reason for the annexation of New-York to Brooklyn. (Applause.)

Mr. Low was greeted with a storm of cheers and applause and spoke with his usual felicity. He spoke at length about Brooklyn, and his regret at leaving the city of his birth. After referring to the fact that there was no city on the globe containing so many people with so few among them rich or poor as Brooklyn, he said he believed that an unusually large number of people in Brooklyn regulated their lives by the highest standards and discharged the duties of citizenship with the utmost idelity. spoke of the needed improvement of the Bridge terminus in Brooklyn and suggested that the area now used for the storage of cars be thrown into Washingtonst., and a broad promenade made from the Bridge to the City Hall. He would use land between Sandsst. and the river for the storage of cars by changing the present curve at the terminus in the opposite direction. lie also suggested the wisdom of laying out the sub-He also suggested the wisdom of laying out the sub-urbs soon to be absorbed in Brooklyn upon a wise-plan for future development, similar to that which makes Washington so beautiful. He expressed the hope that Brooklyn would some day have a great public library, and referred to the public profit from the recent revival of the Brooklyn Institute.

Professor Henry Drisler, acting president of Col-umbia, spoke of the gain to New-York in securing Mr. Low, and the benefit it was expected would acruse to the college by his accession to the presidency. General Affred C. Barnes responded to the sentiment "The Two Cities" and referred to the work Mr. Low did in connection with Professor Bryce's "American Commonwealths."

Commonwealths."

Dr. Truman J. Backus, of the Packer Institute, spoke for "The Schools," ex-Congressman S. V. White responded to the toast "The Exchanges," secretary James McReen, of the Hamilton, spoke for "The Cubs"; Congressman W. C. Wallare for "The Lerislators," St. Clair McKelway for "The University of the State," and James S. T. Stranahan made the closing speech, his subject being "The Citizens of Brooklyn."

INCIDENTS IN SOCIETY.

Mrs. E. Ellery Anderson gave a luncheon for Mrs Grover Cleveland yesterday morning at her home, No. 165 Madison-ave. Forty ladies were present. They seated at small tables, which were decorated with baskets filled with roses of different colors, fied with ribbons to correspond. The guests were Mrs. Dudley Field, Mrs. James W. Gerard, Mrs. H. H. Porter, Mrs. J. C. Westervelt, Miss S. Livingston, Mrs. Francis Delafield, Miss Seward, Mrs. Frederick Talimadge, Mrs. Joseph La Rocque, Mrs. Edward Anthon, Mrs. Lawrence McKee, Mrs. C. F. Chandler, Mrs. Henry Day, Mrs. Clarence Pell, Mrs. William Dinsmore, Mrs. Marie, Mrs. W. Lanman Bull and Mrs. John De Ruyter.

Mrs. Frederick Geodridge gave a dance for her daughter, Miss Caroline Goodridge, last evening at No. 250 Fifth-ave. The cotillon was led by Alexander Hadder, who danced with Miss Geodridge. About 300 young people were present, among them Miss Marion Hale, Miss Satterlee, Miss Beatrice How, Miss Clarisse Livingston, Miss Gerry, Miss Helen Hoffman, Miss Alida Oddie, Miss Pierson, Miss Brewster, Miss Garrison, Miss Morris, Miss Bessie Morris, A. S. Carhart, Austin Oothout, Oakley Rhinelander, Ward Thoron, Miss Tucker, Samnel Tucker, W. Kenneth Ross, A. F. schermerhorn, James S. King, Gouverneur Kemble, Le Roy, John Wainwright, Langdon Erving, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ingersoll, John Hadden, Hobart Porter, Jr., Teliar Minton, Miss Jennie Minton, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Ward, A. Bradaurst Field and Andrew Bibby. Mrs. Charles Ingersoll, banguon Erving, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ingersoll, John Hadden, Hobart Porter, jr., Telfair Minton, Miss Jennie Minton, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Ward, A. Bradhurst Field and Andrew Bibby. Mrs. Schuyler Warren, No. 1 East Thirtich-st., gave a ladies' luncheon vesterilay. Her gnests were Miss. Charles Remsen, Miss Bird, Mrs. Charles Marshall, Miss Ianhs, Mrs. Reginald Francklyn, Miss Charlette Fell, Mrs. Engene Kelly, jr., Miss Lulu Warren, Miss Graham and Miss du Vivier, Mrs. J. P. Townsend, No. 53 East Fifty-fourth-st., gave a reception vesterday afternoon, followed by an informal dinner and a cotilion.

A large ibeatre-party will be given shortly by the members of the Friday Evening Dancing Class, to be followed by a supper and dance at Sherry's.

MR. EREHBIEL'S LECTURES.

"TRISTAN UND ISOLDE"-A SERIES IN NEW

YORK. At Plymouth Church in Brooklyn yesterday afteroon H. E. Krehblel and Anton Seldl gave an exposition of Wagner's drama "Tristan und Isolde," be fore a numerous and most attentive audience. Mr. Krehbiel's lecture was supplemented to the course recently delivered by him at Historic Hall, Plymouth Church being chosen as the place because ample space was needed to accommodate the audience. the audience yesterday were many musical people from New-York, including Herr Reichmann, of the German Opera, and Max Spicker. Mr. Krehbiel analyzed Wagner's drama, showed the poet-composer's variations from the old legend and the versions of Sir Thomas Malory, Gottfried von Strassburg, Matthew Arnold, Tennyson and Swinburne, and explained its musical structure. The dramatic significance of the principal scenes was brought to notice, and the analysis of the musical setting illustrated by Mr. Seldl at the pianoforte, whose excerpts from the score, modelled into vertiable tone-poems, were splendidly effective and called out repeated rounds of applause. The mu-sicians in the audience were particularly delighted by his skill in reproducing the tone-color of the orchestra-In conclusion Mr. Krehblel spoke of the characteristic nents of mediaeval love and argued that Wagner's version of the Tristan legend was ethically loftier and more in harmony with modern thought and feeling

Mr. Krehbiel announces a series of six lectures on "Richard Wagner and his Lyric Dramas," to be given at Steinway Hall, in this city, beginning on February 5. They will be continued on Wednesday afternoons following, at 3 p. m. The first two lectures are preparatory to the others, and aim to show the attitude preparatory to the others, and aim to show the attitude of Wagner toward the various phases through which the lyric drama has passed. In them the development of the essential elements of dramatic song will be traced and illustrated by the performance of some extremely interesting music frem classical antiquity and the Middle Ages, the purpose being to discover what were the germs from which grew the artificial entertainment called the opera, to explain their decadence and to present Wagner as a regenerator of the principles underlying the primitive drama of classic peoples. His methods of composition will also be explained. In the remaining fectures, expositions of the dramatic, poetical and musical contents of Wagner's principal creations will be attempted. Mr. Seld aiding the expositions by playing important excepts from the dramas on the platoforte.

In view of the purpose of the imanagement of the German Opera to perform all of Wagner's operas on In view of the purpose of the management of the German Opera to perform all of Wagner's operas on the active list in the closing weeks of the season, these lectures will be timely and helpful to the enjoyment of the metropolitan representations.

DARTMOUTH ALUMNI TO DINE.

HANOVER'S COLLEGE. The twenty-sixth annual dinner of the Dartmouth College Association will be held at Delmonico's this evening at 6 o'clock. It is expected that over a hundred guests will be present. Among those who have promised to be present are Professor Charles A. Young, Professor John Ordronaux, H. N. Twombley, General Charles A. Carleton, Jonathan Marshall, J. K. Hayward, Professor Albert S. Bickmore, A. W. Tenny. Dr. A. Ranney, Professor Lewis Boss, Judge N. H. Clement, ex-Judge Horace Russell, Charles R. Miller, Dr. Henry M. Silver, Dr. Charles E. Quimby, Dr. George H. Bridgeman, Wilberforce Sully, Philip Carpenter, Henry E. Clossen, Harold C. Bullard, Charles M. Hough and Charles H. Beckett,

The list of toasts is as follows: A. C. Perkins, principal of Adelphi Academy, "The College"; the Rev. Dr. Francis Brown, "Dartmouth Professors"; the Rev. Dr. John R. Paxton, "The College and Modern Theological Thought"; E. T. Rice, president of the Harlem Club, "The Alumni"; Sanford H. Steele, "The Lawyers"; Dr. Charles L. Dana, "The Doctors"; Daniel G. Rollins, "Class of '60"; George A. Marden, ex-speaker of the Massachusetts House of Representatives, "Fishing, its Relations to a Liberal Education"; William N. Cohen, "The New-York Association, its Relation to the College"; Edwin W. Sanbern, "Hanover"; Henry L. Smith, "The College as it Was"; Melville O. Adams, "The Dark-

Another of the dinners to well-known men for which the Hamilton Club, of Brooklyn, is becoming famous was given last evening in honor of President-clect Low, who will shortly leave Brooklyn to assume his new duties at the head of Columbia College. About 250 of the members of the club sat in the dining room of the club-house, on the Heights, and in the other rooms thrown into it for the occasion. The only guests were Mr. Low, some of his immediate relatives and Professor Drisler.

Among those present besides the speakers were Congressman W. C. Wallace, General John B. Woodward, Charles Pratt, Judge Willard Bartlett, Robert D. Benedict, Edwin A. Packard, Colonel J. N.

WEDDINGS.

There was a pretty wedding in Trinity Chapel, West Twenty-fifth-st., near Iroadway, yesterday afternoon, when Miss Margaret Dunscombe Hone, daughter of Philip Hone, was married to Archibald K. Mackay, son of Barnard Mackay. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Morgan Dix. The maid of honor was Miss Mary Kingsland Jones. The bridesmaids were Miss Charlotle Goodridge, Miss Madeline satterice, Miss Constance Curtis, Miss Alida Oddie, Miss Daisy Pierson, Miss Ethel Johnson, Miss Georana Wilmording, Miss Margaret Mackay and Mis-Alice Anerbach. The best man was Hamilton Kuhn, of Boston, and the ushers were George Turnure, T. I. Oakley Rhinelander, Samuel Frothingham, James King, W. Kenneth Ross, Arthur Schermerhorn, Robert G. Hone, Allen Tucker and Ward Thoron. the After ceremony a wedding dinner was served at Sherry's, and besides the bridal party there were present Mrs R. M. Blatchford, Mr. and Mrs. John Christopher Wilmerding, J. C. Wilmerding, jr., Mr. and Mrs. E. Livingston Ludlow, Mrs. H. Le Roy Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Richard T. Auchmuty, Dr. and Mrs. Le Roy Satterlee, General Ellas M. Greene, Samuel Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Winthrop, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Winthrop, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Folsom, and Mrs. Mackay, mother of the bridegroom. A quiet wedding took place yesterday at noon, as the home of the bride, No. 14 East Forty fourth st., when Miss Mande Miller, daughter of Charles Miller, formerly of San Francisco, was married to Philip Sidney Dyer, of Antwerp. The Rev. Thomas S. Ducey, of St. Leo's Church, officiated. The bride was given away by her brother, Elisha Miller. She was attended by her sister, Miss Elanche Miller, and two little quistins, Master Dwight Harris and Miss Gertrude Hamilton. The best man was M. C. Heppenheimer, Speaker of the New Jersey Legislature. Owing to a recent death in the bride's family only relatives were present.

present.

Chicago, Jan. 23 (Special).—Prominent Hebrews from all over the United States attended the wedding of Rabbil Edward N. Callach and Miss Gussie Woother. at Peoria last night. The bridegroom is the pastor of the Jewish Congregation there. The bride is the daughter of the millionaire distiller. The ceremony tas performed by Rabbis Stoltz, of Chicago, and Berkowitz, of Kansas City.

NOTES OF THE STAGE.

The principals of the company which will sing The Gendellers" under the management of John tetson are as follows: Sig. Brocelini, M. J. Malcelm, George Lawri, Harry S. Hilliard, John J. Raffael, W. Walker, Berry Eldon, J. Frank Hadley. H. Clark, Miss Mabella Baker, Miss Bettina Padel-ford, Miss Marian Manoia, Miss Celle Ellis, Miss Lucille Remsen, Miss Lillian Cady, Miss Ethel Cola and Miss Annie Erwin, The chorus will number about forty.

Many actors attended the matinee of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde " at Palmer's Theatre yesterday. The piece will be played at the three remaining per-formances of this week and on Monday Mr. Mansfield will be seen again in "Prince Kart."

Mr. and Mrs. D'Oyly Carte are expected to arrive on the Saale, from Southampton, to-day.

PROFESSORSHIP OF MUSIC AT YALE.

New-Haven, Jan. 23 (Special).—The annual winter cetting of the Yale Corporation was held in Prestdent Dwight's office in the old Cabinet Building to day. A resolution was passed declaring that the orporation is prepared to take decisive action with corporation is prepared to take decisive action with reference to establishing a chair of music whenever sufficient funds are furnished for the airpose. It is believed that $300,000 will be required. It was also voted to establish a professorship to be called the Battell professorship of music, and the necessary funds were voted from money already in hand for that purpose. Dr. G. J. Stoeckel, who has been college organist for many years, was appointed to the place.

SONS OF NEW-YORK IN CHICAGO. Chicago, Jan. 23 (Special).—The Sons of New-York gave a reception and ball at the Sherman House this servative, the most staid and the most orthodox of the servative, the most staid and the most orthodox of the wilmerding, George Turnure, Miss Ethel Johnson, delivered the introductory address and the address of the brutality of athletics. Now she sees in them only the Miss Constance Curtis, Miss Alice Auerhach, E. A.

OBITUARY.

ADAM FOREPAUGH.

Philadelphia, Jan. 23.-Adam Forepaugh, the veteran freus manager, died late last night at his home in this city. Mr. Forepaugh had been ailing for some time. He was attacked a week or two ago with the prevailing influenza epidemic, which three or four days ago developed into pheumonia.

Adam Forepaugh has been long known as a most successful circus manager, and his reputation in the country was perhaps second only to P. T. Barnum's. He was born in Philadelphia sixty-nine years ago. He stayed in that city until he was sixteen years old, working from the time when he was a small boy in a butcher's shop. He then ran away and found employment with another butcher in Cincinnati, where remained for two years. Later he started a stage line and finally began trading in horses and cattle. This business grew to be a large one and in 1861 Mr.

This business grew to be a large one and in 1861 Mr. Forepaugh sold sixty-two horses for $9.000 to John O'Brien, a circus manager, and took a share in the O'Brien, a circus manager, and took a share in the circus and added to it Mebie's menagerie, which he also bought.

As a manager Mr. Forepaugh showed tact and business enterprise and sagacity, and these made his progress rapid and sure. The show that he owned was a small one at first, but he constantly improved it and added to it, and for a long time devoted nearly all his profits to the bettering of his circus and menagerie. It was in 1876 that he found it necessary to have special cars built to carry it about. He accumulated a large fortune and owned real estate in Brooklyn and Philisdelphia valued at from $500,000 to $700,000. He leaves a wife and one son, Adam Forepaugh, jr., who will carry on his father's business. The funeral will take place in Philadelphia on Monday.

James R. Jesup, who had a stroke of paralysis on Wednesday, died at Lakewood, N. J., yesterday. He was born at Westport, Conn., in 1819, and was graduated at Yale about forty years ago. Soon afterward he came to New-York and began to practise law, making a specialty of corporation and railroad school ship St. Mary's: Lieuterant-Coionel William E. cases. He first became a partner of Richard Good- Fitch, of the 10th Battalion; Captain Metcaife, West Point; man, and when Mr. Goodman retired, Mr. Jesup formed a partnership with the late John R. Kennedy. One of the last great railway suits in which he was engaged was that to fore lose mortgages on the Wabash, St. Louis and Pacific system of roads, involving over $25,000,000. Mr. Jesup was trustee under three of the mortgages.

He was for a long time identified with E. D. Morgan and his associates, and held a high position in society. Mr. Jesup was a gentleman of thorough education and considerable literary ability, but was quiet and unobtrusive, and shrank from the prominence which his own ability gave him. He accumulated a large fortune during the course of his busy life and maintained two handsome establishments, one in New-York and one, the house in which he was born, at Westport, Conn., where he made his summer home. For the last three years, he health being rather feeble, he lived during the winter months at the Laurel House, Lakewood, coming into New-York in the morning to attend to business affairs and returning to Lakewood in the evening. Recently he had been chiefly occupied with his own affairs and with hittpatien which was begun long ago and had not yet ended, his active practice having been given up for some years. He was a regular attendant at the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church, and was widely loved for his benevolence. His wife and one son, James R. Jesup, survive him. education and considerable literary ability, but was

PROFESSOR JOHNSON T. PLATT.

New-Haven, Jan. 23 (Special).—Professor Johnson T. Platt, of the Yale Law School, died suddenly to-day. He had been ill with the grip several days and this morning came to his office and was going to his class when he was taken with a hemorrhage of the brain and soon became unconscious.

Professor Piatt was born at Newtown, January 12.

1845. He graduated from the Harvard Law School in 1865 and entered into the practice of his profession at Pittsfield, Mass., and afterward removed to New-York. After remaining there a short time he car to New-Haven and it was not long before he becar prominent in his profession. On the reorganization of the Yale Law School in 1869, Mr. Platt, together with Professors Robinson and Baldwin, was placed at the head of the institution. In 1873 he received the degree of Master of Arts from Yale. He was a member of the Court of Common Council for several years and in 1874 was made Corporation Counsel. He was also Master of Chancery for the District of Connecticut for a number of years. He revised the city ordinances and performed a large amount of other valuable work for the city. He had been United States Commissioner twelve years up to 1384.

Mr. Platt was an ardent Republican, but when Mr. Platt was an ardent Republican, but when Mr. Cleveland was nominated for President he became prominent in the Independent movement. At the time of his death he had a reference case in New-York before the ex-President. Mr. Platt was a man of many noble qualities, but his charity and his love for the poor were his chief characteristics. In the law school Professor Platt gave special attention to instruction in torts and Constitutional law, and was much admired by his pupils and associates. The funeral will take place sunday and the burial will be at Newtown.

THE REV. DR. JACOB WEST. The Rev. Dr. Jacob West, age seventy-one, honorary secretary of the Board of Domestic Missions of the Reformed Church in America, fell dead with heart disease on Wednesday morning, while walking from his house in Ridgewood, N. J., to the Eric Railroad station, where he intended to take a train for his office, No. 26 Reade-st., this city. Dr. West was graduated from Rutgers College in 1842, and from the theological seminary there three years later. After leaving college he became pastor of the Reformed Church in Middleburg, N. Y., where he remained until 1852, when he went as pastor to Piermont, N. Y., for four years. He then removed to Brooklyn, and was pastor of the Redford Reformed Church until 1868, when he was made corresponding secretary of the Board of Domestic Missions. In 1887 he resigned this office owing to advanced age, and was made honorary secretary in the same department. Dr. West leaves a wife and four children, two sons and two mnmarried daughters. The funeral will be held at the Reformed Church at Ridgewood, at 3:30 p. m. to-day. The body will be temporarily placed in a receiving vault.

GENERAL HENRY W. PERKINS. News of the death at Nassau, N. P., on January 14, of General Henry W. Perkins, of the Stock Exchange firm of Henry Knickerbocker & Co., was received here yesterday. The delay in the receipt of the message makes it probable that his body, as well as the promised particulars of his death, will arrive by the steamship Cienfuegos, which is due at this port to-day. Arrangements for the funeral services were being made, on this supposition, last night. General Perkins was born at Athens, Penn., a little more that fifty-five years ago. He had merely an academic education, and at an early age he was placed in the office of a civil engineer. He quickly showed an aptness to the profession, and afterward was engaged in important enor a civil engineer. He quickly showed an aptress to the profession, and afterward was engaged in important en-gineering works with General Charles B. Stewart. After a short interval, which he spent in the banking business in lows, he returned to New-York, and at the outbreak of the civil war he was living at Elmira. He entered military service as a Heutenant of the 50th New-York Volun-teers, and soon afterward was appointed to a position on the staff of General Daniel Butterfield.

He was commissioned as a captain and assistant adju-tant-general from New-Yerk on December 23, 1862, and was transferred to Hooker's corps, and, at the battle of Gettysburg, to the stall of General Meade. Some time after that battle he returned to the 20th Corps, and on that staff made the famous march through Georgia. After the close of the war he was sent to Texas with General Sheridan, but after a brief service he resigned, and was mustered out on January 12, 1866. He was promoted several times, and on his retirement held the rank of breve brigadier-general. On returning to New-York he entered Wall Street, and joined the Open Board of Brokers, which was consolidated with the Stock Exchange on May 3, 1869. About two years later he entered into partnership with Henry Knickerbocker, and the association was dis-

General Perkins had suffered for several years from the gout. For the gast ten years he had spent the winters in Southern waters, but this year he left his yacht at home, and about six weeks ago went to Nassau, accompanied by a married sister. He was never married, and his only surviving brother is Edward H. Perkins, president of the Importers and Traders' Eank.

WILLIAM W. WARREN.

Roston, Jan. 23 (Special).—William Wilkins Warren, a well-known citizen, died to-day, age seventy-five. He established the first house in Boston for importing rich articles for household furnishings. He served in the City Council and wrote an interesting book on "Nile Travel," which has gone through several editions.

MONSEIGNEUR LE GARE. Quebec, Jan. 28.—Monseigneur Le Gare, Vicar-General of this archdiocese, died to-day of inflenza, complicated with inflammation of the lunes.

COLUMBIA COLLEGE BOYS AS ACTORS.

A company of college boys were turned loose in the Berkeley Lyceum last evening, and amused a housefull of Berkeley Lyceum last evening, and amused a housefull of their friends with a production of "Dick Whittington, jr., and his Sensation Cat." The boys were members of the Columbia College Dramatic Club, and the play was given for the henefit of the New-York Skin and Cancer Hospital. Among those present were Mrs. Breckhelst Cutting, Mrs. R. L. Cutting, Mrs. M. Augustos Field, Mrs. George Austin Morrison, Mrs. Buchanon Winthrop, Mrs. N. C., Reynal, Mrs. Frank Morrell, Mrs. Westervelt, the Misses Simmonds, Mrs. Jules Reynal, Mrs. Theodore A. Havemey-er, John H. Benjamin, Mr. and Mrs. Bend, J. Bowers Lee, Mrs. J. S. Riker, the Misses Riker, and Mrs. Watson. Mrs. J. S. Riker, the Misses Riker, and Mrs. Watson. The play was well received, and the many "hits" called forth hearty applause. K. M. Mufcheson, Jr., B. L. Morrell, R. L. Cutting, Jr., J. D. Dorr and E. J. O'Sullivan, received special attention. Other leading parts were taken by J. W. Gerard, jr., T. P. Field, J. E. Blake, W. F. Wall, J. C. Travis and A. V. Stout.

A BRILLIANT OLD GUARD BALL.

VETERANS DANCE IN HONOR OF VETERANS AT

THE METROPOLITAN OPERA HOUSE. The annual reception and ball of the Old Guard took place at the Metropolitan Opera House last evening. Gilmore's band played "Hall Columbia" at 10:30 o'clock and the Opera House, from dancing floor to dome, was filled with patriotic hard Before 11 o'clock the great edifice Before 11 o'clock the great edifice was thronged with men in brilliant uniforms and beautiful women handsomely dressed. The decorations were superb. In the main corridor, gleaming from between itles of evergreens, were the polished barrels of steel rifles, and occasionally the threatening but harmless muzzles of Gatling guns showed themselves. The corridors were strewn with roses, and the boxes were profusely decorated with them. A large mound of red roses decorated the front of the box of Mrs. Grover Cleveland.

When the grand march of the Old Guard was formed at 11:30, the house was crowded in every part. Rernstein's orchestra furnished the dance-music. Among those who were on the floor and in the boxes were the following:

Governor Bulkeley and staff, of Cennecticut; Adjutant-General Josiah Porter, Lieutenant-Colonel Olin, and Cap ain

General Josiah Porter, Lieutenant-Colonel Olin, and Cap ain Thomas Miller, of the 17th Separate Company; General Wingate, General Tompkins, U. S. A.; Colonel Sutherland, U. S. A.; Colonel Dechert and staff, 2d Infantry, N. G. Penn.; General Fitz-John Perter, Major Benjamin P. Holmes and staff, id Regiment, N. J., N. G.; Adjutant-Gen-Holmes and staf, fd Regiment, N. J., N. G.; Adjutant-General Stryker, of Trenton, N. J.; Lieutenant-Cotonel Frank Dalton, 2d Corps Cadets, Salem, Mass.; Major Frank Cowles, Gevernor's Horse Guards, Hartford; Governor Abbett, of New-Jersey, and staff; Brigadier-General Charles P. Graham, Connecticut National Guard; Colonel Rodney Smith, U. S. A.; Adjutant-General Hastings, of Pennsylvania; Major I. H. Lord, U. S. A.; Lieutenant-Pennsylvania; Major I. H. Lord, C. S. A.; Heutenant-Colonel William P. Walton, Colonel Wendell P. Bowman and staff. General Egbert L. Viele, Major I. M. Cushing, of the Boston Light Infantry Corps, and Lieutenant W. D. Watson, of Providence; Grover Clevelund, Daniel Lamont, Captain F. S. Taylor, Lieutenant C. C. Cornwell, of the Fitch, of the 10th Battallon; Captain Metcaife, West Point; Major George E. Glenn, U.S.A.; Major Randolph, U.S.A.; staff officers of General Sewell, Lieutenant-Colonel G. S. Gillespie, U.S.A.; Recordeg Smyth, Governor Riggs, of Delaware; Commander F. Rogers, U. S. N., and officers of the United States ship Minnesota; Captain David Wilson, 2d Battery; Assistant Adjutant-General I. S. McEwan, of Albany; Captain E. P. Meeker, of the United States Marine Corps; Major Rawlins, of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company, Boston; Mayor Hugh J. Grant, Lieutenant-Colonel Robert Olyphant, Colonel Joseph F. Tobias, Philadelphia; Major Charles W. Stévens, Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company, Boston; General. I. M. Varian, General J. L. G. Story, Theodore W. Myers, Asa Bird Gardiner, Captain I. F. Burke, Gate City Guard, Atlanta, Ga.; General Abbot, United States Army, Judge As a Bird Gardiner, Captain 1. F. Burae, Gate City Guaca, Atlanta, Ga.; General Abbot, United States Army, Judge Randolph B. Martine, General Whipple, United States Army; Postmaster Cornellus Van Cott, Mayor Chapin, of Brooklyn; General Charles F. Robbins, officers of the National Rifles, Washington, D. C.; General Nicholas W. Day, Captain George E. Lovett, of the Boston Light In-Pay, Captain George E. Lovett, of the Joseph Ingine in-fantry; General McMahon, General Shaler, ex-Judge Gilder-sleeve, General N. S. Banks, Rufus Hatch, A. S. Hewitt, Judge Lawrence, Colonel D. S. Appleton, 7th Regiment; Colonel Scott, 9th Regiment; Colonel Camp, 22d Regiment.

REPUBLICAN BUSINESS MEN ACTIVE.

FORMING ORGANIZATIONS IN DIFFERENT DIS-TRICTS-DECLARATIONS IN FAVOR

OF HARMONY.

The first of the three enrolments for the Business Men's Republican Association of the VIIIth Assembly Men's Republican Association of the VIIIth Assembly District took place last night at the headquarters of the John J. O'Brien Association, No. 242 Grand-st.
Mr. O'Brien's "first lieuteflant," John E. Brodsky, had general charge, supervising the enrolling committee, Bernard Rourke, Charles Smith and Christian Goetz, who had for their assistants Henry Loewy and William T. O'Brien. Mr. Loewy announced that and William T. O'Brien. Mr. Loewy announced that 1,438 names had been registered, of which 1,203 had been obtained by the election district captains "out-

The Business Men's Republican Association of the IXth Assembly District was organized on Wednesday evening by electing Benjamin F. Hillery, the real estate insurance man, of No. 587 Hudson-st., president, and George Collier secretary. Resolutions similar to those adopted by the XIXth District Business Men's Republican Organization on the same evening regarding John J. O'Brien, were passed. Another resolution was adopted, indorsing the policy of Charles D. Sweeny, secretary of the central organiza-tion, as in the interest of peace and harmony within the Republican party, and denying that his course was in any respect antagonistic to the Republican County Committee.

The third regular monthly meeting of the Busi

The third regular monthly meeting of the Business Men's Republican Organization of the XVIth Assembly District was held last night at No. 213 East Twenty-third-st., and the good attendance gave indication of active work for the party. A resolution was passed declaring it to be the desire of the association to co-operate with the regular county organization of the party, and denouncing as false the statements, circulated in certain quarters that there was any discord within the party ranks in the district.

The Young Men's Republican Club of the XXIst Assembly District held its annual election at the club.

in the district.

The Young Men's Republican Club of the XXIst Assembly District held its annual election at the clubrooms, No. 811 Sixth-ave., last evening. The following were elected officers: President, Lawrence Harney; first vice-president, Robert Sweeney; second vice-president, John A. Conkey; third vice-president, James A. Clark; recording secretary, Nicholas A. Knox; corresponding secretary, Henry Kirk; financial secretary, Roger F. Rinn; treasurer, William Burnett.

A NEW LEASE FOR THE METROPOLITAN HOTEL. The Metropolitan Hotel has been leased by the stewart estate for ten years at an annual rental of $75,000 to Flavius J. Allen, of the Astor House, and D. M. Hildreth, the proprietor of the West End Hotel at Long Branch and formerly part owner of the New-York Hotel. TO RE SOLD BY AUCTION WITHOUT RESERVE. DECLINED BY THE REV. DR. LORIMER, Roston, Jan. 23.—A letter has been received from the Rev. Dr. George C. Lorimer, by Deacon Went-worth, positively declining the call to the Warren Avenue Baptist Church. He feels that the importance and the magnitude of his present work in Chicago make it his imperative duty to remain there.

MR. ROCKEFELLER'S NEW HOUSE.

William Rockefeller has sold his country place at Greenwich, Conn., in exchange for land, improved and unimproved, in Convent-ave., near One-hundred-and-forty-fifth-st., valued at $100,000. He has no specific plans as to the use he shall make of his Harlem property. "My buying land in Harlem has nothing to do with the World's Fair." he said, laughingly, to a Tribune reporter. "It is not situated where the fair would benefit it much, although not stuated where the lar would pench it house, attacks the fair will probably increase the value of all the land in Harlem." In reference to his Tarrytown property, Mr. Rockefeller said that there would be no radical departure in the architecture of the new house from that of the Aspin-mal horseated which it will closely resemble in many rewall homestead, which it will closely resemble in many respects, it being Mr. Rockefeller's design to reproduce that old mansion, but on a larger scale.

DEMOCRATS FAVOR BALLOT REFORM.

The Brooklyn Democratic Club held a meeting last night at its rooms, No. 201 Montague-st., to discuss ballot reform. The attendance was small. A. Augustus Healy presided. There were also present Clark F. Healy presided. There were also present Clark F. Sumner, secretary; Theodore S. Nye, corresponding secretary; John B. Noyes, treasurer; Harrington Putnam, W. C. Moquin, George E. O'Hara, David R. Hilson, and Francis Gottsburger. Mr. Putnam, as chairman of the Executive Committee, moved the adoption of resolutions favoring the reform. William C. Coombs spoke strongly in favor of a reform ballot system, but opposed the idea originally suggested that a registration law should be presented to the Legislature simultaneously with a ballot

THROUGH PARLOR CARS TO ATLANTIC CITY VIA PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.

The through Parlor car and passenger coach leaves stations foot of Cortlandt and Desorosses sts. at 1 p. m. for Atlantic City, arriving there at 5:40 p. m. The Pennsylvania is the only line running Parlor cars between New-York and Atlantic City.

Every day increases the popularity and sale of Carer's Little Liver Pills. The reason is that when once sed relief is sure to follow. Don't ferget this.

For supper or dessert Grainlet may be cooled in oulds and served with sweetened milk and cream, the same as blane mange

Furniture from Flint's lasts! ! 1

The Cambridge,

5th-ave. and 33d-st., is a palatial, model home, with all hotel conveniences. Cuisine unsurpassed. Lorenz Reich, proprietor.

When baby was sick, we gave her Castoria, When she was a Child she cried for Castoria, When she became Mins, she clung to Castoria, When she had Children, she gave them Castor ADDICKS JARDINE—At the residence of the briders aunt, Mrs. John Pemberton, Philadelphia, Penn., Jant-ary 22, 1800, by the Rev. John Peddle, D. D., Masglo, daughter of David Jardine, of New-York, to Waiter E. Addieks, of Boston, Mass. Addiers, of Boston, Mass.

DE GRAFF-MILIAREN-On Wednesday, January 22, 1890, at the Cussent Avenue Presbyterian Church, Plainfield, N. J., by the Rev. William R. Richards, Carrier Thompson, daughter of Samuel Miliken, pr., to James Wilde Decrez, all of Plainfield, N. J.

RELLEY-GILLENDER-On Wednesday, January 22, at the Church of the Heavenly Rest, by the Rev. D. Parker Morgan, Austin Price Kelley to Elizabeth Willard, at the order of Augusta 2 Guinnage. MARRIED.

PENNINGTON-HAYES-Oit Tuesday, January 21, at the residence of the bride's mother. No. 688 High-sto. New. ark, N. J. by the live. Lewis Lampinan, Mr. Louis Pennington to Miss Mary Abbott, daugnter of the late Dayld A. Hayes, bott of Newark.

Notices of marriage must be indorsed with full hame and address. DIED.

AMERMAN-At Hackensack, N. J., January 22, Cornelius B. Amerman, in the 71st year of fils age.
Puneral at the residence of his son, at Hackensack, Saturday, 2 p. m. Train leaves Cortianatest. 12 m. Somerville papers please copy.
APGAR-Suddenly, on Thursday, January 23, 1800, at her late residence, 154 West 44th-st., Julia Ann, wife of the lare Law Access 150. late residence, 154 West late Levi Aygar. Notice of funeral hereafter.

Notice of funeral hereafter.

BERGEN-On Wednesday, January 22, 1800, Edizabeth, widow of the late Teunis G. Bergen, in the 86th year of her age.

Relatives and friends are invited to attend the funeral services at her late residence, Bay Ridge, L. I., on Saturday, January 25, at 2 p. m.

Interment private.

day, January 25, at 2 p. m.
Interment private.

BRACE—In this city, January 23, suddenly, Miss Julia Wadhang, Brace, daughter of the late Thomps K. Brace, of Hartford. Conn.
Funeral Saturday, 2:30 p. m., at Hartford.

BROWN-On Wednesday, 22d inst., at Wyoming, N. J., Susan Todd, whow of Andrew A. Brown, and daughter of the late Edward Brown, of Albany, N. Y.

Funeral services at her late residence, Wyoming, N. J., Saturday afternoon, at 2:45. Train leaves foot of Barclay-st, and foot of Christopher-st, at 1:30.

CLEVELAND—Entered into rest, January 22, 1800, at the residence of her son, De Lancey Cleveland, Short Hills, N. J., in the Söth year of her age, Sarah Monger, daughter of the late Joseph Karrick, eq., of Haltimore, Md., and widow of the late Samuel Caidweil Cleveland. Funeral services on Saturday, ind 25th inst., at Christ Church, Short Hills, on arrival of the D., L. and W. R. R. train leaving New-York at 10:10 a. m.

COURTNEY—Of scarlet fever, Thursday, January 23.

COURTNEY-Of scarlet fever, Thursday, January 23, Wesley Darwood, Infant son of R. W. and S. A. Courtney, aged 13 months and 5 days.

Funeral private CULYER-In this city, on Thursday, January 23, 1890, at her residence, No. 231 Thompson.st., Sarah, widow of John Culyer, in her Sist year.
Funeral services and interment on Monday, 27th inst., and will be private, in accordance with the request of the deceased.

deceased.

E.M.R.E.-Fannie L., wife of Alexander M. Earle and daughter of the late Crowell Hadden, of Prooxiya, at Plainfield, N. J., on the 21st inst., aged 51 years, 11 months and 15 days.

Funeral services at No. 20 Franklin Place, Plainfield, on Friday, 2th inst. at 2:45, on arrival of the 1:30 train from foot of Liberty-st., New-York. Return train leavos Plainfield at 3:51 p. m.

Klodly omit flowers. HARRIS-On Thursday, January 23, Sally Kane Harris widow of Dr. Francis Lee Harris, of New-York.

Notice of funeral hereafter.

HESS-At Flatbush, L. I., Wednesday, January 22, George McAllister Hess.
Relatives and friends are invited to attend the funeral services from St. Paul's Church, Flatbush, Friday, January 24, at 2 o'clock p. m.
Rindly omit flowers.

Rindy omit flowers.

HULBURT—At the residence of her parets, 63 North Grovest, East Orange, N. J., Lottic, w.e. of Lewis C. Hulburt, and second daughter of W. ligible and Charlotte Amelia Smith, and granddaughter of the late George Tucker, of New-York, Funeral services at the residence of her parents, on Saturday, 25th inst., on the arrival of the 1:30 train from New-York at Grove-st. statiot, Del., Lack. and Western Railroad.

Philadelphia Ledger please copy.

HYDE—On Wednesday, January 22, Ida Josephine, wife of Dr. Frederick E. Hyde and elder daughter of the late Benjamin T. Babbitt.

Funeral services at the Church of the incarnation, Madison-ave, and 35th-st, Saturday, January 25, at 2 o'clock.

Please omit flowers.

Frase omit nowers.

IVES-On Thursday, January 23, at the residence of her sister, Mary E. Ivos.

Notice of funeral hereafter.

Notice of funeral hereafter.

JESUP—At Lakewood, on Thursday, January 23, James R. Jesup, in his 71st rear.

Funeral services at the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church, corner 55th-st., on Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

Relatives and friends are invited to attend.

Interment at Westport, Conn.

JONES—On Wednesday, January 2: 1890, May C. aged 19 years, daughter of George A and Elizabeth C. Jones.

Funeral services will be held at the residence of her parents, 312 West 28th-st., on Friday, 24th inst., at 1 o'clock, p. m.

Interment at Woodlawn.

MILLER—At Chicago, January 19, Clarence Miller, son.

Interment on Saturday at Delial, N. Y.
PEERS—At Stanford, Conn., on January 22. Mrs. Eliza
Peers, widow of Colonel Thomas F. Peers, of this city, Funeral services on Friday, January 24, at the residence of her son-in-law, A. W. Praradise, i3 Summer-st., Stamford, Conn., at 3:30 p. m.
PEIRKINS—at Nassau, New-Provid nee, Tuesday, January 14, 1896. General Henry W. Perkins, of New-York, in the fifty-sixth year of his age.
Notice of I netal hereafter.

Notice of f neval her after.

PLATT-In Brooklyn, January 22, 1890, Augusta M.
Hull, wife of Frederick A. Platt.

Funeral Saturday January 25, at 12 o'clock, at her late residence, 430 Clinton-ave. Brooklyn.

RING-Passed away, at Passale, N. J., Wednesday morning, January 22, Millicent Ring, widow of David Sanda Ring, and daughter of the late Isaac Van Duze, of Warwick, Orange County, N. Y., in the 93d year of her age. Puneral at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. K. E. Connah, No. 20 Pennington-ave., Passaic, N. J., at 2:30 p. m. on Friday, January 24. Relatives and friends invited.

vited.

Interment at the convenience of the tamily.

SCHERMERHORN—On Thursday, January 23, 1890, Sarah D., widow of the late Horatio Schermerhorn, in the 80th year of her age.

Relatives and friends of the family are invited to attend the funeral services at her late residence, 127 East 46th-st., on Saturday, January 25, at 11 a. m. STANTON-On Thursday morning, January 23, 1890, Henrietta Frost, wife of George Stanton. Henrietta Frost, wife of George Stanton.

Funeral on Saturday, 9 a. m., at her late residence, 135

West 76th-st. Relatives and friends are invited to attend. Newburg papers please copy. WEST-At Ridgewood, N. J., suddenly, Wednesday, January 22, 1890, Rev. Jacob West, D. D., in the 72d year of his age. Relatives and friends are respectfully invited to attend the funeral, at 3:30 o'clock p. m. Trains leave 23d-st. and Chambers-st. 1:45 p. m. Please omit flowers.

Special Notices.

Fifth Avenue Art Galleries, 366 FIFTH-AVE., NEAR 34TH-ST. NOW ON FREE EXHIBITION, PAINTINGS BY

WORTHINGTON WHITTREDGE, N. A.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, JAN. 29, AT 8 O'CLOCK. ROBERT SOMERVILLE, AUCTIONEER. BY ORTGIES & CO.

At the American Art Gaileries,
6 Fast 23d-st. (Madison Square).
NOW ON EXHIBITION FROM 9 A. M. to 6 P. M.
THE AMERICAN LIBRARY
and
THE AET COLLECTION
6 the late
SAMUEL LATHAM MITCHELL, BARLOW,
To be sold at Auxtion by Order of Executors.
BEGINNING MONDAY, FEB. 3. AT 2.30 O'CLOCK.
Catalogue of the Library (Limited Edition),
PRICE ONE DOLLAR.
To be had of the undersigned, and JAMES OSBORNE
WRIGHT, 34 East 18th-st.
 Catalogue of the Art Collection to be had free on apniteation to plication to AMERICAN ART ASSOCIATION MANAGERS, 6 East 23d-st. Bangs & Co., 739 and 741 Breadway.

THE LIBRARY OF AUTOGRAPHS OF WILLIAM F. JOHNSON, ESQ., of BOSTON, MASS., to be sold at auction Monday, January 27, and following days at 3 p. m.

A very valuable and interesting collection AMERICAN AND ENGLISH LITERATURE, comprising many standard and popular works, and a fine collection of first editions of Hunt, Lamb, Keats, Shelley, Thackeray, Browning, Hawthorne, Longfeilow and others Craikshanklana, and a choice COLLECTION OF AUTOGRAPHS.

Cod Liver Oil.-This invaluable medicine for weak lungs and debility is frequently rendered unavailable by its strong oder and taste. Caswell, Massey & Co.'s EMULSION of COD LIVER OIL with PEPSIN and QUININE entirely overcomes these objections.

SEE LETTERS FROM LEADING PHYSICIANS TO
CASWELL, MASSEY & CO.,
1.121 B'way, 578 5th-ave., and Newport, R. L.

Do Not Forget that Carter's Little LIVER PILLS cure sick headache, often in two hours Florida! Windsor Hotel, Jacksonville. F. H. Orvis. Putnam House, Palatka. E. C. and W. F. Orvis.